HAS CONFERENCE IN ALEXANDRIA

Governor Said to be Much En couraged by Reports From Campaign Managers.

FIGHT WILL BE VERY CLOSE

Both Sides Hard at Work and Both Hope to Carry City.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ALEXANDRIA, VA., March 25.—Before ending his visit to this city this morning Gevernor Montague had a conference with several prominent citizens of Alexandria, who are actively interested in his candidacy for United States senator, and it is understood that the Governor feels encouraged by the reports received from the local field. At the new Hotel Rammel, where he was stopping during his brief stay here, he was visited by many leading citizens, who gave him assurances of their hearty support.

The speech the Governor delivered last night at the Odd-Fellows' anniversary celebration has been highly praised. While the affair was altogether without political feature, it has been remarked that the spontaneous and enthusiastic applause he received is significant of his growing popularity in Alexandria. The Governor has honored this city with his presence on frequent occasions in the past two years, and has come in more or less intimate touch with a great many citizens.

It is, however, recognized by his supporters in the present contest that the lines are unusually closely drawn in Alexandria, and that the city is not likely to be carried either, way without a hard right. The close contest in Alexandria nearly four years ago between the Governor and Benresentative Swanen's value. night at the Odd-Fellows' anniversary celnearly four years ago between the Governor and Representative Swanson is re-called as an indication of the character which the present canvass is likely to as-sume, but it is confidently asserted and generally accepted that the Governor is generally accepted that the Governor is much stronger in Alexandria to-day than he was then. The friends of neither candidate are idle. Having formally and openly entered the field in the organization of the "Andrew J. Montagne Political Club," the supporters of the Governor are inaugurating an active campaign. The friends of Senator Martin have not yet announced any organized movement, and such announcement is hardly expected, but no one at all familiar with local conditions doubts that the most systematic and aggressive fight will be made for the junior Virginia senator, Mr. C. C. Carlin, a member of the local bar, is a leader among the Martin forces, while leader among the Martin forces, while

The county paper, Times-Democrat, has come out in vigorous articles in favor of the nomination of Hon. Taylor Phlyson for Lieutenant-Governor, and it is believed that the county will give him an overwhelming majority. The sentiment of the Democratic voters is practically a unit for Martin and Swanson.
